Boy am I happy to be here. I am an 8 month old lab/husky cross who was found as a stray. At first when they took me in I was relieved because I got regular meals and had shelter, but then they said I was out of days. I don't know exactly what they meant, but it didn't sound good. I must have woo'd them with my cute looks and outgoing behavior because I got to go for a car ride to a foster home. It's all been smooth sailing since. I am an active girl who loves to play and I am looking for a family that is ready for a blonde bundle of joy.

My foster parents keep saying that they cannot believe what all I have been through. They have the physical evidence that I was not fed, hit by a car and shot at. Despite all of that because I came in extremely underweight and my teeth are worn down from foraging for food my entire 5-7 year life. They took me to have x-rays for my leg that was damaged when I was hit by a car a long time ago – nothing further can be done but I don't really mind that my right leg is shorter than my left leg. I am still able to jump up on the sofa for love, although I don't run much. Then they found the shot gun pellet that is still in my shoulder from when someone shot at me. They keep saying that they are amazed at how affectionate I am – well wouldn't you be to the people who started to treat you well? I have so much to thank them for and I show it all the time!

Tommy

Tommy

Hi, I'm Tommy. I am a hip, young dude fresh to the city. I am ready to explore and eager to learn new things. Just shy of 6 months, I am still growing and because I am a shepherd cross, I will probably be a fairly large guy. But I don't think I'll ever get too big to sit on laps – I really like that! I'm not only cute, but I'm smart too. I am learning the rules of a house and get lots of treats because I do my business outside. I am not so good on a leash yet, but we are working on that! C'mon, I can't be perfect!!

Mabel

Mabel

I am a beautiful lady who is 2 years young. I think I have hound dog in my mix and possibly some shepherd. I have gained weight since being rescued and now am at my perfect weight of 60 pounds. I am a sweet and gentle soul who is very loving and well behaved with humans and dogs of all sizes. I think I would like someone who can take me on long walks, as I enjoy checking out all the sites and scents of the neighborhood. I am completely housebroken, am really trustworthy when I am home alone and I walk really nicely on leash. That is until I see a rabbit or squirrel – I'm working on that. I am an accomplished high jumper, so I need a yard with a 6 foot fence. My favorite thing to do is to spend time with my people – I have lots of time to make up for.

Edsel

Edsel

My name is Edsel and all I want for Christmas is a new fur coat! I am a shepherd collie cross and am almost 6 months old. When I was first rescued, it was pretty obvious that I had mange. My belly was completely bald and the rest of my hair was really patchy. I have been treated and now my hair is growing back. Good thing too, because it was getting a little chilly! I am super affectionate and guarantee that you'll enjoy hugging me!
